

Appendix F: Alternative Funding Sources

The Technical Guide for Subbasin Planners requests that subbasin plans include activities outside the responsibility of the Bonneville Power Administration (BPA). Specifically, the Technical Guide says, “Subbasin plans need to integrate and coordinate Bonneville obligations under the NW Power Act, Endangered Species Act and Clean Water Act requirements and tribal trust and treaty based responsibilities. Beyond Bonneville specific responsibilities, subbasin plans should be developed broadly enough to take into account other federal, state, and local activities, objectives, and responsibilities. Including these other elements, though they may not be a funding responsibility of Bonneville, should enable planners and implementers to coordinate their activities in a more cost-effective manner and in a way that produces cumulative and synergistic benefits.”

This subbasin plan does include recommended strategies for fish and wildlife protection and restoration that are outside BPA’s mandate. In order to aid fish and wildlife managers and the public in implementing this plan, we have included this appendix with a list of alternative funding sources that may be willing to provide financial support for strategies in this plan. The information in this appendix came from: Directory of Watershed Funding Resources - Environmental Finance Center at Boise State University: <http://ssrc.boisestate.edu/index.asp>. More detailed information about funding is available on this website.

The mission of the Environmental Finance Center (EFC) at Boise State University is to provide help to those facing the "how to pay" challenges of environmental protection. The EFC is committed to helping the regulated community build and improve the technical, managerial, and financial capabilities needed to comply with federal and state environmental protection laws. Their goal is to assist local communities and watershed groups in finding creative funding solutions to support their own plans for environmental protection.

There is a tremendous volume of information available for funding watershed restoration. However, finding and sorting through this information can be a daunting task. In an effort to address this need, the EFC has created an on-line, searchable database for watershed restoration funding. The database includes information on funding programs available for federal, state (Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Alaska), private, and other funding sources.

Users can query the information in a variety of ways including agency sponsor, keyword, or by a detailed search. At the end of a query, a brief description of each matching program will be displayed. When a specific program is selected, a detailed page of that program will be displayed and can be printed.

The database is a work-in-progress. Information is added and updated regularly. The database is a result of a collaborative effort between the EFC and the following organizations:

- * Alaska Department of Community and Economic Development (OCED)
- * Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR)
- * Oregon Watershed Enhancement Board (OWEB)
- * Washington Infrastructure Assistance Coordinating Council (IACC)
- * U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)
