Dear Mr. Steve Wright,

The future of how the Northwest gets its power is of extreme importance to every person, animal, plant and the environment as a whole. Energy production has a huge impact on the environment and that is why it is extremely vital for the Bonneville Power Association to focus its future in green power and renewable energy. The Northwest should envision a future of dynamic energy production including wind energy, solar energy, and biomass energy. I ask you to please support the "Public Interest Proposal." This will ensure that we are providing clean, affordable energy while also making the future health and stability of our environment of utmost importance. Please invest a large portion in renewable energy while keeping the future of wild salmon in the Northwest alive and hopeful. Thank you very much for your time and would be interested in what your vision for the next 20 years actually does look like.

Sincerely,

Ryan Pinkham
